

The Journal of Wyndham Lewis Studies

Volume 11

Article 15

12-2023

Contributors

Michael Shallcross
michael.shallcross@googlemail.com

Follow this and additional works at: <https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/jwls>

Recommended Citation

Shallcross, Michael (2023) "Contributors," The Journal of Wyndham Lewis Studies: Vol. 11, Article 15.
Available at: <https://tigerprints.clemson.edu/jwls/vol11/iss1/15>

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by TigerPrints. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Journal of Wyndham Lewis Studies by an authorized editor of TigerPrints. For more information, please contact kokeefe@clemson.edu.

CONTRIBUTORS

Leon Betsworth is a Lecturer in English at the London College of Contemporary Arts. He is currently editing The Tyro for Oxford University Press and co-editing the Edinburgh Companion to Wyndham Lewis and the Arts for Edinburgh University Press.

Cooper Casale is an instructor of English at the University of Tulsa. His fiction and poetry have appeared in storySouth, The Chattahoochee Review, New South Journal, and elsewhere.

David Cruickshank holds a PhD from King's College London. His current research projects promote modernism as a framework for understanding how marginal bodily identities are exploited by narratives of modernity, progress and profit, and what this grotesque transformation of human into object reveals about responses to modernity today.

Scott W. Klein is Professor of English at Wake Forest University. He is the author of The Fictions of James Joyce and Wyndham Lewis: Monsters of Nature and Design (Cambridge University Press) and the editor, with Mark Antliff, of the Oxford World's Classics edition of the 1928 edition of Wyndham Lewis's Tarr.

Francesca Mancino is an English PhD student at Fordham University. She runs Lost Modernists, a hub for all-things relating to neglected modernisms.

Naomi Milthorpe is Senior Lecturer in English at the School of Humanities, University of Tasmania. She is the author of Evelyn Waugh's Satire: Texts and Contexts and is currently working towards a scholarly edition of Waugh's Black Mischief - volume 3 in the Oxford University Press Complete Works of Evelyn Waugh.

Gabriela Minden is a Lecturer in English Literature at Cardiff University.

Alan Munton is currently writing about the relationship between George Orwell and Wyndham Lewis. He is an Honorary Research Fellow in English at the University of Exeter.

Adrian Osbourne gained his PhD at Swansea University in 2020, researching the poetry and short stories of Dylan Thomas, from 1933 to 1939. He is the co-editor of The Fifth Notebook of Dylan Thomas: Annotated Manuscript Edition, published by Bloomsbury Academic in 2020.

Matthew Pilkington is a Lecturer in the Department of English at the University of Tennessee.

Matthew Purvis is an independent scholar and curator living and working in Montreal. He specializes in post-war Canadian art and film.

Nathan Waddell is an Associate Professor of English Literature at the University of Birmingham, UK. He is currently writing a book about Wyndham Lewis and fascism, for Princeton University Press.